STATISTICAL ANNEXE

1. OVERVIEW

Preliminary estimates indicate a mixed performance in the output of Guyana's major sectors. Growth was experienced in the mining & quarrying, engineering & construction and the services sectors while there were setbacks in the agriculture sector. The inflation rate increased during the first quarter of 2008, on account of continued increases in global fuel and commodity prices.

On the external front, the current account registered a higher deficit on the back of significantly higher oil and commodity prices. Notwithstanding this position, strong capital receipts and increases in short term capital inflows led to an overall balance of payments surplus.

The foreign exchange market continued to grow during the review period. Sales were driven by growth in export receipts and remittances, while purchases increased due to higher imports. Although sales exceeded purchases, the Guyana dollar depreciated slightly against the US dollar due to periodic increase in excess demand.

Fiscal consolidation continued during the first quarter with higher central government surplus. This was attributed to increases in receipts from corporations and stronger tax collections. Non-projects grants also contributed to the stronger overall position. The central government current and capital expenditure remained in line with fiscal targets.

The stock of domestic debt grew as a result of increases in the stock of treasury bills despite a reduction in the NBIC Series A debentures. Similarly, external debt increased by 5.2 percent, primarily as a result of higher payments to both multilateral and bilateral creditors.

The financial system remained relatively stable during the first quarter of 2008, with the Licensed Depository Financial Institutions (LDFIs) being adequately capitalised, highly liquid and profitable. The positive performance was supported largely by favorable domestic macroeconomic conditions. Capital Adequacy Ratio (CAR) continued to increase in excess of the prudential 8 percent benchmark. The reduction in non-performing loans underscored the improvement in asset quality during the review period.

Monetary aggregates also reflected improved economic activities in the domestic economy. Broad money grew by 2.3 percent on account of the expansion of quasi-money (comprising of interest-earning savings and time deposits of the private sector). The growth in M2 assets, on the other hand, resulted from the significant increase in net foreign assets while credit to the private sector increased by 1.9 percent. Except for the weighted average prime lending rate which increased marginally, the commercial banks' interest rates remained stable.

The net foreign assets of the banking system increased by 5.8 percent on account of higher holdings of foreign assets by the Bank of Guyana (hereafter referred to as the Bank). Total liquidity of the banking system increased on account of the higher investments in treasury bills by the commercial banks.

The global economy continued to grow albeit at a slower pace during the first quarter of 2008. The US economy continued to be adversely affected by the sub-prime debacle, but strong performances were recorded in Europe, Japan and emerging markets, especially China and India. Higher inflation remained a downside risk due to rising fuel and commodity prices.

During the second quarter, the economy is expected to continue its steady growth path, particularly in the mining, construction and services sectors. The agriculture sector which faced minor setbacks in the first quarter is also expected to register positive growth in the second quarter. Inflationary risks remain strong, particularly with respect to world oil prices and global food shortage.

The balance of payments is projected to deteriorate as a result of record oil prices and higher values for other imports, despite the expected growth in export volumes and prices. The Guyana dollar is expected to remain stable against the US dollar.

The Bank of Guyana will remain vigilant and tighten monetary policy as required in light of increases in oil and commodity prices at the international level. A prudent fiscal stance by the central government is also encouraged to aid this effort. In particular, the government would have to keep spending in line with budgetary targets as well as continue with revenue collection. Base money is projected to increase by G$2,417 million. This will provide some latitude to the commercial banks to expand credit to the private sector in order to facilitate growth.

The global economy is expected to remain healthy, driven mainly by strong growth in Europe, Japan and emerging markets. Inflation in industrialized countries will be kept in check by a tightening of monetary policy, especially in Europe and Japan, while the major downside risks will come from imbalances in the world trading system and the potential impact of the US performance with recent indicators showing a weakening of manufacturing and housing sector activities, employment and consumption. The performance of the Caribbean economies is likely to be adversely affected by the sub-prime crisis and rising food prices. □

2. REVIEW OF FIRST QUARTER 2008

Output & Growth

Preliminary estimates indicate there was modest growth during the first quarter of 2008. The agricultural sector, facing inclement weather in early 2008, saw a decline in the production of sugar and rice by 11.5 percent and 40 percent, respectively. Output in the livestock and forestry sectors also contracted. The former resulted from the late shipment of hatching eggs and setbacks experienced in the production of livestock, while the latter was due to inclement weather and a rigid enforcement of logging regulations. However, output in the fisheries sector increased as a result of the commissioning of the aquaculture hatchery and the implementation of the Fisheries Management Plan.

The mining and quarrying sector continued registering strong growth in the first quarter. Bauxite output increased by 44.6 percent due to continued investment in equipment and workers, while gold output grew by 9.5 percent on account of record increases in world gold prices. Notwithstanding those successes, diamond output declined by 53.3 percent, due to a reduction in this type of mining activity as a result of relatively lower prices.

The manufacturing sector registered growth in production despite sharp increases in fuel prices. The engineering & construction sector continued to grow because of a strong housing market and demand from the commercial services sector.

Costs & Prices

Despite faster growth in food and oil prices, Bank of Guyana preliminary estimate of inflation was 4.5 percent for the first quarter of 2008 compared with 7.1 percent for the corresponding period last year. This was due to the absence of price increases that accompanied the implementation of the Value Added Tax (VAT) regime in January 2007.

Balance of Payments

Despite a deterioration in the current account the overall balance of payments recorded a higher surplus due to stronger inflows in the capital account. The overall balance of payments amounted to US$28.7 million compared with US$3.6 million for the corresponding period last year.

The current account deficit widened as a result of higher fuel payments, consumer goods and machinery imports linked to agricultural and infrastructural investments across the economy. This more than offset the 21 percent increase in export earnings, resulting from favourable prices for gold and greater volumes of bauxite sales. Workers' remittances rose marginally compared to the previous year, and inward bank receipts saw significant increases in the first quarter.

The capital account, however, registered a higher surplus of US$72.5 million compared with US$37 million in the first quarter of 2007 due to strong inflows. This improvement resulted from an increase in disbursements and stronger FDI inflows, coupled with a reversal in foreign assets accumulated by commercial banks.

Foreign Exchange Market Activities

The foreign exchange market was buoyant during the first quarter of 2008, marginally lower by 1.8 percent compared with the first quarter of 2007. Total foreign exchange transactions amounted to US$976 million at end-March 2008. Cambio transactions accounted for 57.5 percent, while the hard currency receipts and retention accounts accounted for 41 percent of total transactions respectively. Soft currency transactions accounted for the residual amount.

The Bank's total receipts for the first quarter was US$116 million. This comprised mainly of non-bank purchases of US$61.9 million from GUYSUCO and the Guyana Gold Board. Sales to the cambio market amounted to US$5.5 million as the foreign exchange market remained very liquid and banks accumulated large working balances.

The Guyana dollar experienced a mild shift vis-à-vis the US dollar at end-March 2008. The commercial banks weighted mid-rate, which stood at G$203.10 against the US dollar at the end of 2007, appreciated by 0.38 percent to G$202.33 at the end of March 2008. Conversely, the Bank of Guyana exchange rate, which is the simple average of the weighted rates of the three largest bank cambio dealers, depreciated by 0.4 percent to G$204.25 per US dollar at the end of the first quarter. The overall spread narrowed to G$2.77 - a decrease of 9 percent when compared to the end of 2007. This situation is an indication of liquidity in the market.

Public Finance

Central Government's first quarter results showed marked improvement over the corresponding period last year due to increased collections from both the Internal Revenue Department and Customs & Trade Administration. Higher receipts were from the excise tax and VAT, higher transfers from corporations as well as revenues in the form of grants. Overall expenditure were in line with first quarter targets. However, current expenditure was higher due to increases in employment cost and other charges, while capital expenditure was lower during the first quarter. In this context, the primary impetus to spending during this period emanated from the rehabilitation to the water supply system as well as programmes in respect of social services and public safety under the Public Sector Investment Programme.

The stock of domestic and external public and publicly guaranteed debt increased by 5 percent and 5.2 percent to G$72,803 million and US$757.4 million, respectively. Despite a reduction in debentures, the domestic debt increased as a result of the issuance of 364-day treasury bills to sterilize the excess liquidity in the economy. Debentures were 25.8 percent lower due largely to the maturity of the NBIC Series A debentures. The stock of external debt also rose on account of a new multilateral payment schedule as well as a latest arrangement with Venezuela, a Non-Paris Club creditor.

External debt service costs were higher by 15.1 percent to US$2.9 million, while domestic debt charges declined by 15.9 percent to G$738 million on account of the lower volume of 364-day treasury bills redeemed during the quarter.

Monetary Developments

Monetary developments were consistent with economic activities at end-March 2008. Reserve money stood at G$59,292 million, an increase of 8.7 percent when compared with the end-December 2007 level. This was largely associated with the increase in net foreign assets of the Bank which expanded to G$52,488 million from G$44,643 million at end-December 2007. The net domestic assets of the Bank, however, decreased by 31.3 percent to G$6,804 million.

The stock of broad money, comprising of currency in circulation and private sector deposits, grew by 2.3 percent to G$167,164 million reflecting the expansion of Quasi-money.

Quasi-money, comprising of interest-bearing deposits of the private sector, increased by 4 percent to reach G$113,574 million largely on account of the growth in time deposits. In contrast, Narrow-money, consisting of currency in circulation and private sector demand deposits and cashiers cheques and acceptances, contracted by 1.2 percent.

Total deposits by residents grew by 6.3 percent to G$175,533 million while deposits by non-residents declined by 6.7 percent to

G$9,754 million. Private sector deposits, which accounted for 77.9 percent of total deposit by resident, increased by 4.4 percent. The growth in private sector savings was associated with higher earnings and remittances-related inflows.

Net domestic credit of the banking system declined by 14 percent despite an increase in credit to the private sector. Higher deposits of the public enterprises, as well as, lower borrowing by central government which resulted in the public sector being a net depositor with the banking system contributed to this outturn. The net deposits of the public sector increased by 35.2 percent to G$25,770 million.

Credit to the private sector expanded by 1.9 percent during the review period. Broken down by economic activities, credit to the agriculture, other services, distribution and manufacturing sectors increased by 9.7 percent, 8.7 percent, 5.5 percent and 1.3 percent respectively. This outturn was due to the increased level of economic activities in these sectors. Real estate mortgages also grew by 6.4 reflecting continuation of the housing construction boom. However, credit to the rice milling, mining and personal sectors declined by 24 percent, 7.7 percent, and 3.7 percent, respectively.

The net foreign assets of the banking system grew by 6.2 percent to US$432.2 million largely due to an increase in the foreign assets of the Bank. The higher holding of foreign assets by the Bank reflected higher inflows from the Guysuco, Gold Board and foreign currency purchases from the commercial banks. The foreign assets of commercial banks, however, declined by 5.6 percent to US$230.3 million.

Except for the weighted average prime lending rate, the other interest rates of commercial banks remained stable. The weighted average prime lending rate increased by 9 basis points to 13.98 percent.

The 91-day treasury bill rate remained stable at 3.90 percent. However, the 182-day and 365-day treasury bill rates declined marginally by 3 basis points and 1 basis point, to 3.89 percent and 4.34 percent respectively due to high levels of excess liquidity and competitive bidding for these bills.

The overall liquidity of the banking system increased by 9.2 percent to G$71,067 million largely on account of higher holdings of treasury bills by commercial banks. Consequently, the ratio of excess liquid assets to total liquid assets increased from 41.5 percent at end-December 2007 to 44.4 percent at end-March 2008.

Non-Bank Financial Institutions (NBFIs)

The financial resources of the Non-Bank Financial Institutions (NBFIs), which includes depository and non-depository financial institutions, grew by 2.4 percent to G$130,382 million at end-March 2008. This resulted in a marginal increase of 0.2 percent in the NBFIs' share of total assets in the financial sector.

The additional resources mobilized by the NBFIs were derived mainly from a 2.6 percent increase in share deposits, a 10.8 percent expansion in insurance premiums, due to an increase in liabilities to policy holders, and 2.2 percent increase in pension funds. In contrast, other liabilities, which represents 40.8 percent of total liabilities, declined slightly by 1.3 percent or G$691 million.

NBFI's funds were used for investments in the foreign and private sectors and to increase claims on the local banking sector. Investments in the foreign sector increased by 10.9 percent, as insurance and trust companies continue to invest in foreign securities and hold large balances at foreign banks. Use of funds for investments in the private sector grew slightly by 0.4 percent and represented 43.4 percent of the sectors assets. This was due to continued investments in local securities and real estate mortgage loans. In addition, the banking sector claims grew by 14.5 percent, while investments in the public sector declined by 10.8 percent.

Financial Stability Assessment

The financial system remained relatively stable during the first quarter of 2008, with the Licensed Depository Financial Institutions (LDFIs) being adequately capitalized, highly liquid and profitable. The Capital Adequacy Ratio (CAR) was 15.8 percent at end-March 2008, compared with 15.3 percent at end-December 2007. The increase in the ratio was attributable to higher Tier 1 capital and a marginal increase in risk-weighted assets.

Non -performing loans of LDFIs as a share of total loans was 9.9 percent during the review period, lower than the 11.5 percent recorded for the corresponding period in 2007. This outturn stemmed mainly from a 3 percent decline in the level of non-performing loans and a 13.4 percent rise in the aggregated value of loans. The ratio of provision for loan losses to non-performing loans increased from 42.3 percent at the end of March 2007 to 53.1 percent at the end of March 2008. This was due to a 21.9 percent increase in provision for loan losses.

Loans to the top twenty borrowers amounted to G$29,109 million, 1.2 percent below the level at end-March 2007. In light of this development, the ratio of loans to the top twenty borrowers to total loans, declined from 46.7 percent at the end of March 2007, to 40.7 percent at the end of March 2008. Within the top twenty borrowers group, four of the seven LDFIs were responsible for the decline.

The gross income of LDFIs amounted to G$5,863 million at the end of March 2008, 20.1 percent above the level for the corresponding period last year. The increase was attributed to a 29.3 percent growth in interest income emanating mainly from private sector credit.

The aggregate expenses of the LDFIs increased by 29.9 percent to G$4,140 million, mainly on account of increases in interest expenses and provision for loan losses, which grew by 85.6 percent and 121.2 percent, respectively.

The net income before tax of the LDFIs fell by 1.7 percent to reach G$1,723 million in March 2008. Net income after tax fell by 2.7 percent to G$1,221 million.

The average liquid assets held by LDFIs amounted to G$54,677 million, 4 percent above the average level recorded for the corresponding period in 2007. This growth reflected increases in foreign asset holdings, reserve deposits, and investments in Government of Guyana Treasury Bills.

Monetary Policy

The objectives of the Bank of Guyana's monetary policy are the attainment of price stability and the creation of an enabling environment for credit expansion and economic growth. The Bank seeks to allow the expansion of broad money along a path consistent with projections for output and inflation. Thus weekly targets for broad money are translated into targets for base money using the money multiplier. To achieve these weekly base money targets the Bank focuses on the effective management of excess liquidity in the financial system through its Open Market Operations (OMOs).

During the review period, based money was targeted to increase by G$1,489 million. However, increases in deposits from higher earnings, and external inflows continued to add liquidity to the system. Consequently, there was a net issue of treasury bills of G$6,500 million. This was broken down as eight (8) issues of treasury bills amounting to G$25,065 million, while redemptions amounted to G$18,565 million. Treasury bills were issued when base money exceeded the targeted levels.

The Bank's monetary policy was also reflected in the prevailing interest rates. Treasury bill discount rates and the savings rates at the commercial banks either remained unchanged or declined marginally while the weighted average prime lending rate trended upwards. This brought about interest rates that were consistent with the levels of liquidity in the system.

The Global Economy

Most estimates suggest that the world economic growth slowed significantly in the first quarter as a result of the global financial and liquidity crisis. Despite upbeat growth estimates from emerging markets such as China and India, forecasts suggest that the global economy will grow by less than 4 percent in 2008, sharply lower than in previous years. The US economy grew by an annual rate of 0.6 percent in the first quarter of 2008, with Japan posting a stronger 3.5 percent growth and the Euro area growing by 1.6 percent.

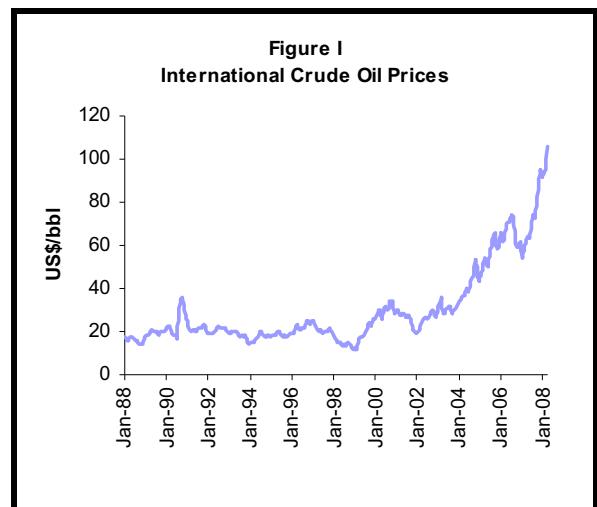

The first quarter brought turbulent times for global financial markets as the financial crisis continued to impact market liquidity. The quarter saw a number of interventions by central banks around the world, both by repeated emergency interest rate cuts as well as through liquidity injections into the markets. The current Federal Reserve Funds Rate in the US stands at 2.3 percent, down from 5.3 percent one year ago. The bank rate in the UK as well as in the Euro area stood at 5 percent, while interest rates in Japan remain unchanged at the 0.5 percent mark.

As a result of widespread interest cuts to stimulate economic growth, inflation has become a major concern in the number of developed and developing economies. Inflation in the Caribbean region has been of particular concern with food and fuel prices reaching record levels. This has led to the adoption of a number of measures to curtail price growth. Inflation in March compared to a year ago for the US, Japan and the Euro area was 4 percent, 1 percent and 3.3 percent, respectively. □

The Impact of Oil Price Shocks to Guyana's Economy

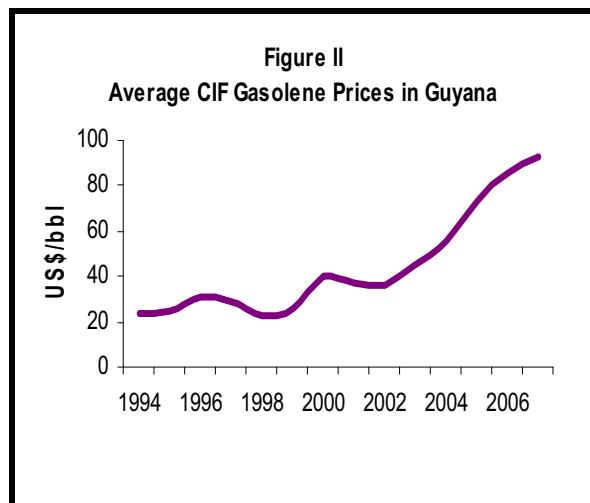

There is growing concern over the impact of high oil prices on oil importing countries. This note highlights some of the potential impact of a continued period of high oil prices on the Guyanese economy and certain mitigating factors that might ease Guyana's oil-burden.

In mid-March, crude oil spot prices soared to a record high of US$111.80 during intra-day trading. According to some estimates, the March crude oil price average of $105.45 has exceeded those seen during the 1979 Energy Crisis, after adjusting for inflation. This high price regime is expected to continue—the US Department of Energy forecasts that the 2008 average price per barrel will be US$94, before easing slightly to an average of US$85.92 in 2009.

In Guyana, the average cost, insurance, and freight (CIF) inclusive price of unleaded gasoline imports has more than doubled in the last five years, reaching a record high last year of just over US$92 per barrel as compared to a decade low of US$36 per barrel in 2002.

Guyana imports six types of petroleum products, namely unleaded gasoline, diesel, aviation fuel, fuel oil, aviation gas, and liquefied petroleum gas. Of these, diesel is the largest component, which is primarily used for electricity generation in combination with fuel oil by the Guyana Power & Light. Unleaded gasoline imports for automobiles follow with a quarter of the share of total fuel imports. LPG, used primarily in cooking, constituted only 4 percent of total oil imports in 2007.

Oil is not only used for automobiles or cooking, but indirectly as well, as an input in the production process. An increase in the price of oil therefore has economy-wide effects for Guyana. The first and most obvious consequence is that the general price level in the economy will rise as producers pass on a share of the higher costs to consumers. In smaller import-reliant countries like Guyana, this is further manifested through rises in the cost of shipping and freight, which are influenced significantly by fuel prices.

Oil price movements also directly affect Guyana's current account position and foreign exchange reserves. Figure IV shows Guyana's imports of fuel as a percentage of total imports. Starting at about 20 percent of total imports in 2000, the share peaked at about 28 percent in 2005 before easing slightly. On the other hand, volumes imported actually dropped between 2000 and 2006, before marginally rising in 2007.

In Figure V, Guyana's current account can be seen widening sharply between 2004 and 2007, around the same time at which there were marked increases in average prices paid by fuel importers in Guyana.

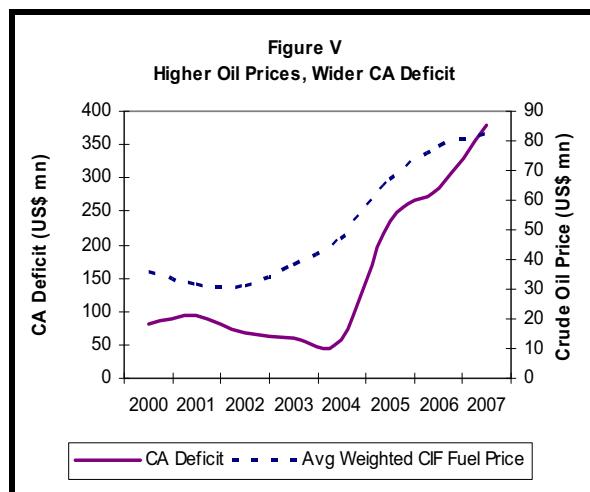

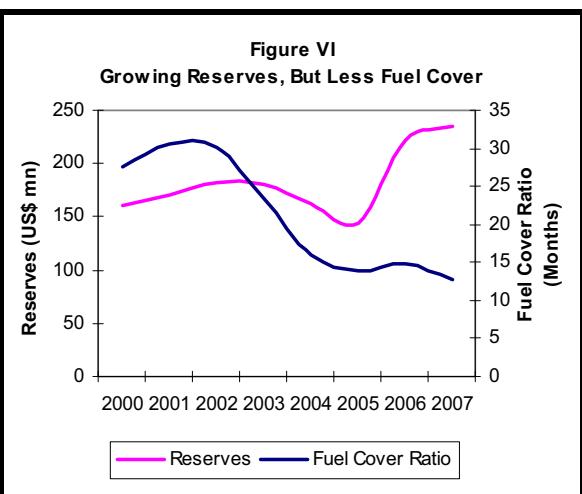

Figure VI shows a steadily declining "fuel-cover" ratio—a hypothetical calculation measuring the number of months of fuel imports Guyana's foreign exchange reserves could pay for if they were exclusively used for that purpose. From a peak of 30 months in 2001-2002, Guyana's fuel cover in 2007 was only 12 months. Guyana is not alone; almost all low-income countries have experienced a significant hit on foreign exchange reserves in the last three years as a result of high oil prices. With a reduction in reserves comes a welfare impact—countries with dwindling reserves have less foreign currency to buy other imports. In smaller import-reliant countries where import substitution is not easy, this has significant effects on the economy and the standard of living.

Amidst these high prices, however, lie some mitigating factors that will ease Guyana's fuel burden in the short run. At a time when commodity prices are at record highs, Guyana's export industry is expected to boom in 2008. Export receipts from gold, bauxite, and rice sales are expected to keep a check on the excessive widening of the current account deficit. Guyana's participation in the Petrocaribe arrangement with Venezuela allows an extended deferral of payments on a maximum of 50 percent of the value of fuel imports, easing pressure on both reserves as well as the current account deficit.

Another potential mitigating factor is that most analysts agree that current oil prices are probably not supply-induced but rather risk-induced, that is, investors view oil as a safer investment than holding the sharply depreciating US dollar. If this is indeed the case, and Guyana's gold production can be sustained at current levels, the impact of high fuel prices will be largely buffered by the high price of gold, another favourite during times of risk. Most oil price forecasts suggest that in the medium run oil prices will ease as better supplies come on stream and global risk conditions ease. In the long run, recently identified potential offshore oil reserves could significantly impact Guyana's oil import bill and of course its balance of payments and reserve positions.

3. OUTLOOK

GDP Growth

Guyana's economy is projected to grow by 4.8 percent in 2008 on the back of significant restructuring and expansion in the agricultural sector. In particular, large investments in the sugar and rice industries are expected to yield positive results this year. Livestock, fisheries and forestry industries will also benefit from investment aimed at enabling these sub-sectors to realize their potential. Mining and quarrying activity is expected to register strong growth as two bauxite mining companies continue expanding production and exports significantly. Gold prices are expected to remain high as a result of dollar depreciation and global risk aversion.

As for services, Guyana's hosting of the tenth CARIFESTA X will boost the tourism and services sector towards the third quarter. The engineering and construction sector is expected to benefit strongly from resumption in offshore petroleum exploration activity later this year.

Inflation

Increases in global fuel and fertilizer prices, as well as a global food shortage will put pressure on domestic prices for the remainder of the year. Unless measures are instituted to ensure sustainable production of agricultural commodities and the substitution of corn that acts as an important input for the production of bio-fuel; the prices of goods and services will continue to increase despite governmental measures and CET waivers to reduce domestic price increases.

Foreign Exchange Market Activities

A more favourable balance of payments situation is projected for the second quarter on account of higher export earnings and remittances. The deepening of the foreign exchange market means the Bank does not expect any demand from the cambio market, while the Bank's purchases are projected at US$44.3 million from GUYSUCO and the Guyana Gold Board. These developments will translate into a continued favourable foreign exchange position with the exchange rate expected to remain broadly stable.

For 2008, the Bank's hard currency budget projects an increase in gross foreign reserves to US$351.9 million. This will be met mainly by foreign inflows of US$79 million from International Financial Institutions, returns on investment and other foreign exchange operations of US$76.2 million, and non-bank purchases of US$205.7 million from GUYSUCO and the Guyana Gold Board.

Monetary Policy

The monetary policy objectives will remain the same for the second quarter. However, there will be a sharper focus on inflation in light of rising food and fuel prices. Furthermore, the Bank will continue to monitor the growing liquidity level in the banking system and sterilize any excess to keep inflation under control.

In order to facilitate the Bank's effort at controlling inflation, it is important that the central government maintain a prudent fiscal stance. This would entail that the government keep spending in line with budgetary targets.

The Bank will continue to manage the expansion in base money, which is targeted to increase by G$2,145 million. This will provide for price stability while allowing the commercial banks to increase credit to the private sector in order to facilitate growth.

The Global Economy

World growth is projected to slow to 4.1 percent in 2008, down from an estimated 4.9 percent last year due to recent financial market turbulence and a weakening US performance. Growth in Europe is projected to decline to 1.6 percent from 2.6 percent in 2008. Similarly, growth in Japan is forecast to deteriorate to 1.5 percent from 1.9 percent last year due to current tightening in building standards as consumer and business sentiments became vulnerable. Despite some slowing of export growth, the emerging economies continued to expand strongly, particularly China and India. These countries have benefited from the strong momentum of domestic demand, more disciplined macroeconomic policy frameworks and, in the case of commodity exporters, from high food and energy prices.

Inflation in industrialized countries will be kept in check by a tightening of monetary policy, especially in Europe and Japan. While Japan again fell back into a situation of deflation in February, strong consumer spending has prompted calls for a rise in interest rates. Inflation is expected to come down sharply in the UK so that it falls more in line with the 2 percent target. However, if the US housing slump begins to have a more pronounced impact on US growth the Federal Reserve will be under pressure to reduce interest rates.

The imbalances in the world trading system will continue to be a major downside risk, particularly the large deficits and surpluses experienced by the US and China, respectively. However, the depreciation of the US dollar against all major currencies and the slow appreciation of the Chinese Yuan will improve the US' trade deficit and contribute towards a steadyng of the global economy. While US consumer spending has not yet been muted by the housing slump, its potential to impact negatively on the world economy also presents a significant downside risk - as evidenced by the recent turmoil on world stock markets.

II. NOTES TO THE TABLES

TABLE 1.1: Bank of Guyana: Assets

Foreign Assets

TABLE 2.13: Commercial Banks: Loans and Advances to Residents by Sector

The data provided record balances at the end of the respective period and therefore indicates the indebtedness of the respective industries at the end of the reporting period. The value of credit obtained by each industry for a given period can be obtained by taking the difference between the balances at the end of the desired period and that immediately preceding. The balances in this table exclude inter-bank loans, real estate mortgage loans, local securities and other credit instruments. It should be noted that gross indebtedness of the sugar and rice industry can be obtained by adding the balances of sugar cane and sugar and molasses manufacturing of sugar, and paddy and rice milling for rice respectively. See note under Loans to Non-Residents for Table 2.1 (a) above. See note under Private Sector for Table 2.1(a) above.

TABLE 2.14: Commercial Banks: Liquid Assets

The liquid assets comprise Bank of Guyana notes and coins, foreign currency held by banks, (special interest earning) deposits held at the Bank of Guyana (BOG), balances due from other Commercial Banks - both local and foreign, Government of Guyana Treasury Bills. The special reserves deposits (SRDs) established in 1969, discontinued in 1994 as the Bank of Guyana sought to develop its capacity to manage the excess reserves of the bank more effectively. Approximately, 75-80 per cent of the SRDs were absorbed through a sale of three year, variable rate, fixed date debenture to the Commercial Banks.

Prior to March 1989, the legally required level of liquid assets to be held by the Commercial Banks against their deposit liabilities was calculated as the sum of 20 percent of demand liabilities and 15 percent of time liabilities. During the period March 31, 1989 to May 15, 1991 the determination of the required liquid assets held by the banks was based on actual holdings on specified dates. Accordingly, from March 31, 1989 to June 30, 1990 required liquid assets were stipulated as the actual holdings on March 15, 1989. Between July 30, 1990 and February 19, 1991 the required liquid assets was based on the assets held by the banks on September 30, 1989. Further, between February 20, 1991 and May 14, 1991 the required balances were set as at the end of July 30, 1990.

With effect from May 15, 1991, however, the basis for calculating required liquid assets was changed to 25 percent of demand liabilities and 20 percent of time liabilities. Further, amendments to the liquid asset requirements became effective on 26th, October 1998. The liquid assets base period has been redefined as the Monday to Friday workweek immediately preceding the liquid asset maintenance period. The liquid asset requirement is determined by applying the prescribed percentages to the weekly average of the daily liabilities balances at the close of business of each of the five days of the liquid asset base period. Figures for Treasury Bills were reclassified from December 2000 to December 2002.

TABLE 2.15: Commercial Banks: Minimum Reserve Requirements

Prior to May 16, 1991, the minimum required reserves of the Commercial Banks were calculated as 6 percent of demand liabilities and 4 percent of time liabilities. Their percentages were changed with effect from May 16, 1991, to 11 percent of demand liabilities and 9 percent of time liabilities. Commencing April 7, 1994, the minimum required reserves of the Commercial Banks were again revised to the sum of 16 percent of demand liabilities and 14 percent of time liabilities.

On June 29, 1998, in addition to Commercial Banks, other licensed Financial Institutions were required to maintain balances with the Central Bank against their deposits and other liabilities. Further, the required reserve period has been changed on Monday to Friday workweek instead of the Wednesday to Thursday week used previously. The required reserve period has been referred to as the reserve base period. The week following the current reserve base period, i.e. the reserve maintenance period is also based on the Monday to Friday workweek. The deposits and other liabilities to which the required reserve ratio(s) are applied are referred to as the reserve base. During the reserve maintenance period, all licensed Financial Institutions subject to reserve requirement are required to maintain reserves against the relevant deposit and other liabilities.

Effective February 1, 1999, the required reserve ratio applicable to all liabilities of licensed Financial Institutions was lowered to twelve per cent (12 %). The first reserve base period for which the revised requirements became relevant was the 1st to 5th February 1999 while the reserve maintenance period was the 8th to 12th February 1999. However, reserve balances for the Non-Bank licensed Financial Institutions are excluded from table 2.15.
