THE GUYANA ECONOMY

1. SUMMARY

The economy recorded a 3.8 percent GDP growth during the first half of 2008, after achieving a 5.8 percent growth in the corresponding period of 2007. The agriculture, mining, engineering & construction and services sectors were the leading forces for this outturn. The manufacturing sector recorded negative growth due to high cost of inputs - fuel and imported raw materials - which adversely affected competitiveness and production in the major industries. Inflation was contained at 5.8 percent in spite of rising international oil and food prices.

The overall balance of payments at end-June 2008 improved to a surplus of US$47.6 million from a deficit of US$12.3 million for the corresponding period last year. Higher capital inflows more than offset the impact of the growing current account deficit. The former was due largely to increased foreign direct investment while the latter stemmed from higher merchandise and service imports. The overall surplus contributed to the accumulation of foreign assets by the Bank of Guyana.

Total transactions on the foreign exchange market continued to grow on account of increased foreign trade. Overall transactions were higher by 25.1 percent when compared to the corresponding period of the previous year. The market has been impacted by increased inflows in the form of export receipts, remittances and capital transfers; and outflows associated with the rising cost of both merchandise and service imports. The exchange rate remained relatively stable during the review period.

The overall financial operations of the public sector, computed on a cash basis, deteriorated because of higher current expenditure by the central government and current and capital expenditures by the Non-Financial Public Enterprises (NFPEs). The central government, however, recorded a higher surplus on account of increased capital receipts which offset the increase in current expenditure. The overall cash deficit of the NFPEs expanded at end-June 2008, mainly on account of the expanded capital programs of Guyana Sugar Corporation (GUYSUCO) and Guyana Power and Light Inc.

The economy experienced a higher stock of public debt during the review period. The stock of government's domestic bonded debt increased by 7.6 percent, while its external public and publicly guaranteed debt rose by 16.8 percent from end-June 2007. The former is attributed to an increase in the issuance and hence higher holdings of treasury bills, while the latter is due to higher IDB disbursements and bilateral credit delivered under the Petrocaribe Initiative. Both domestic and external debt service rose from their June 2007 levels.

Key monetary aggregates continued to grow with increased economic activity. Reserve money grew by 9.6 percent due to an expansion in the Bank's Net Foreign Assets (NFA), while broad money growth of 6.6 percent was underpinned by increase in the banking system NFA and expansion in private sector credit. The commercial banks' interest rates declined marginally; consequently, interest rate spreads remained relatively high. The non-bank financial institutions continued the active mobilization of financial resources.

The Licensed Depository Financial Institutions (LDFIs) reported higher levels of capital and profits during the six months period ended June 30, 2008. The Capital Adequacy Ratio (CAR) when compared with end-December 2007 remained well above the prudential benchmark of 8 percent. The loan portfolio was impaired by a 5 percent increase in the level of non-performing loans but was buffered by adequate provision.

The global economy has experienced a significant slowdown amidst a deepening international financial crisis. Advanced economies have seen the brunt of this so far, with emerging economies still yet to see the full impact of this crisis. The US economy, while still experiencing positive (albeit minimal) growth, has seen a sharp decline in employment, private consumption, and imports. The Euro area, while also under recessionary pressure, has seen stronger economic growth than in the United States. The Caribbean on the other hand, has had mixed results as global commodity prices are at all-time highs, though significant inflationary pressures across the region threaten to wipe away any potential gains as a result of this phenomenon.

The conduct of monetary policy during the first half of 2008 was guided by the policy to contain the external influenced inflationary pressure while creating the enabling environment for credit and economic growth. The Bank acknowledged the danger of the persistence of high inflation from rising oil and food prices on the world market as well as seasonal factors, and sterilized any excess liquidity that may be inflationary, undermining growth and macroeconomic stability. Consequently, there was a G$7.9 billion net issue of treasury bills during the first half of 2008.

For the remainder of the year, the global economy is expected to remain weak and forecasts suggest strong recessionary pressures are in store for most of the major economies. The USA is projecting growth between 0.8 percent and 1 percent for 2008 while growth in the Euro Area is forecasted to be 1.7 percent. Energy and commodity prices will also continue to remain high in 2008 as supply issues remain largely unresolved. Guyana is expected to benefit from higher commodity prices. Consequently, this will result in increased output of Guyana's major commodities - sugar, rice, gold, bauxite and timber - for continued growth of the GDP. Exports receipts are also expected to increase which will contribute to exchange rate stability

In light of continued price increases during the first half of the year, the Bank has revised its inflation target to 7.5 percent for 2008. To achieve this, the Bank will intensify its Open Market Operations (OMOs) to restrict the growth of money to mitigate second round price increases. Further, a tighter fiscal stance by the government in the form of lower current expenditure will be needed to support the Bank's efforts to keep inflation low. The Bank will also respond swiftly with appropriate measures to evolving circumstances that may impinge on inflation expectation and macroeconomic stability. □

2. PRODUCTION, EMPLOYMENT, INCOME AND INFLATION

The economy recorded a 3.8 percent GDP growth during the first half of 2008, after achieving a 5.8 percent growth in the corresponding period of 2007. The agriculture, mining, engineering & construction and services sectors were the leading forces for this outturn. The manufacturing sector recorded negative growth due to high cost of inputs - fuel and imported raw materials - which adversely affected competitiveness and production in the major industries. Inflation was contained at 5.8 percent inspite of rising international oil and food prices.

GROSS DOMESTIC PRODUCT (GDP)

The economy posted a modest growth rate of 3.8 percent during the first half of 2008. This outcome was due to strong performances in the mining, engineering & construction as well as the services sectors. A steady performance was recorded in the agricultural sector and there was negative growth in the manufacturing sector.

Agriculture

The agriculture sector recorded growth of 0.3 percent compared to 5.6 percent for the corresponding 2007 period. This marginal increase was due to increase in the production of rice, sugar and livestock. The fishing and forestry industries contracted during the review period.

Sugar

Sugar output was 103,280 tonnes, 2.3 percent above the level reported for the first half of 2007, and represented 36 percent of the 290,000 tonnes targeted for 2008. This outturn was due to inclement weather conditions which hindered planting and harvesting during the first crop of the year, unanticipated episodes of industrial stoppages and low worker turnout levels.

Rice

Rice output was 172,497 tonnes, 2.1 percent more than the corresponding 2007 level and represented 54 percent of the 321,000 tonnes target for 2008. The large investments in the rice industry coupled with higher prices on the world market contributed to this outturn.

Fishing and Livestock

The fishing industry experienced weak performance while the output of the livestock industry was mixed. With the commissioning of the aquaculture hatchery initiative and the Fisheries Management Plan yet to take effect, the fishing industry registered lower output. In addition, rising fuel costs incurred by industrial fishers, as well as, piracy experienced by the artisan fishers have adversely affected the performance of the industry. The livestock industry reported higher egg production but lower output for poultry meat. The latter stemmed from increased price of stockfeeds during review period.

Forestry

The forestry industry recorded a decline in output during the review period. Total output of logs fell by 25 percent and represented 26 percent of the 459,647 cu.mt. targeted for 2008. This outturn was attributed primarily to the enforcement of Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) regulations by the Guyana Forestry Commission (GFC).

Mining and Quarrying

The mining sector recorded a 15.2 percent growth in real terms during the first half of 2008. This outcome reflected the partial realization of the substantial investment and restructuring that has been undertaken in the bauxite industry over the last few years, and the impact of increased price for gold on the world market.

Bauxite

Bauxite output increased by 22.8 percent when compared with the corresponding 2007 period and represents 44.4 percent of the 2,626,000 tonnes target for the year. The increase in output is due to heavy investment made by RUSAL at the Aroaima mine over the last two years. The three contributory elements recorded increases in production, 10.7 percent, 70.9 percent and 24.3 percent for Metal Grade (MAZ – which accounts for 69.8 percent of all bauxite output), Chemical Grade (CGB) and the high value Refractory Grade bauxite (RASC), respectively.

Gold and Diamonds

Total gold declarations increased by 12 percent compared with half year 2007, and were 52 percent of the 231,750 ounces targeted for the year. This outturn was due to suitable weather conditions for gold mining as well as significantly expanded operations by miners on account of the rising price of gold on the world markets.

Gold (oz)	89,112	107,641	120,510
Diamond (mt. ct.)	193,251	170,226	82,468

The diamond industry experienced a 51.6 percent decrease in declarations, as compared with half year 2007. Though 30.5 percent of the 270,000 carats target for 2008 was mined by end-June, this falls short of the proportion achieved in the corresponding period in 2007 (52.7 percent). The high price of gold on world markets is partly responsible for the lower diamond declarations as it has encouraged miners to shift their focus away from diamonds. Furthermore, the Government has been offering financial incentives to prospect for other high valued minerals.

Manufacturing

The manufacturing sector (excluding sugar processing and rice milling) recorded a 3 percent decrease in real output during the first half of 2008. This outturn was due to high cost of inputs - fuel and imported raw materials - which adversely affected competitiveness and production in the major industries. The beverage industry reported mixed output, with an 8.7 percent increase in alcoholic products and a 6.4 percent decrease in non-alcoholic products. Output of liquid pharmaceuticals exhibited a sharp increase of 142.7 percent. This reflected the increase in demand for pharmaceuticals in both the local and international markets. There was a 2.5 percent decline in paint production, while the performance of the garment industry improved from the decline it suffered during the first half of 2007, and experienced a 28.2 percent increase in production. This is due to increased demand in international markets. Electricity generation rose marginally by 0.5 percent. This reflected the expansion in capacity to meet the demands of new housing schemes.

Engineering and Construction (E&C)

The engineering & construction sector recorded growth of 4.6 percent in the first half of 2008, which was lower than the 6.6 percent recorded for the corresponding period in 2007. This performance continued to be supported by high public sector capital expenditure on roads, bridges, hospitals and schools as well as private sector expenditure on housing.

Services

The services sector recorded overall growth of 5.1 percent for the first half of 2008. This outcome is attributed to distribution sub-sector with 11 percent growth and the financial sub sector with a growth rate of 8.5 percent over the review period. The former is due to an increase in imported consumer goods and spending from higher income. The latter is due to sustained development over the past few years in bringing new financial products to the market and increasing credit to the private sector.

EMPLOYMENT, INCOME & INFLATION

Public Employment

Preliminary data indicated that public sector employment remained relatively unchanged during the review period. Employment at the GUYSUCO increased by 0.3 percent, while there was constant employment at the Guyana Mining Enterprise. In the financial service industry and the Guyana State Corporation group (GUYSTAC GROUP), employment declined by 3.4 and 9.8 percent, respectively. This decline in employment in the public sector was primarily due to factors such as resignations and retirements of employees.

the first half of 2008. The number of work stoppages increased by 9.2 percent to 83 from 76 at the end of June 2007. This is explained largely by the sugar workers concerns of higher cost of living as a result of the rise in food and fuel prices. The strikes resulted in an increase in the number of man days lost from 16,975 at end-June 2007 to 33,389 at end-June 2008. Wages lost also increased from G$38.3 million to G$63.4 million during the review period.

Private Employment

While data on private sector employment is sparse, there are indications that the growth sectors recorded higher levels of employment. The mining, distribution as well as the engineering and construction sectors highlighted activities seem to be associated with increased employment of labour resources.

Income

Changes in nominal income reflected the output performances of the various economic sectors as well as the government's effort to cushion the impact of rising prices. In May 2008, the government awarded a 5 percent wage increase along with a Cost of Living Allowance (COLA) of G$4,000 to public servants earning less than G$50,000 per month. These fiscal measures were further supported by an increase in the income tax threshold from G$28,000 to G$35,000 with effect from January 2008.

The minimum wage for certain private sector employees was also increased with the amendment to the Wages Council Act (Chapter 98:04) in March 2008. These initiatives saw the improvement in the disposable income of both public and private sector employees. While interest paid to holders of government securities was higher in the first half of 2008 as compared with the corresponding period in 2007, interest paid to holders of bank deposits decreased.

Inflation

In the first half of 2008, the Georgetown Urban Consumer Price Index (CPI) grew by 5.8 percent, compared with 12.2 percent for the corresponding period in 2007. Annual inflation, as measured by the twelve-month change in the CPI since June 2007, contracted to 7.4 percent compared to the 13.1 percent recorded in the corresponding period in 2007.

Table IV

Consumer Price Index

Miscellaneous Goods & Services	209.3	209.6	214.5
Recreational & Cultural Services	409.6	392.7	273.4

The growth in food and oil prices on the world markets contributed significantly to the rising inflation rate during the review period. This was particularly evident in the food and transportation & communications components of CPI which recorded increases of 8.9 percent and 4.8 percent, respectively.

The price of housing as well as the miscellaneous goods & services component also increased by 3.8 percent and 2.3 percent, respectively. This included items such as cosmetics, jewelry, watches, package tours, financial services and expenditures in restaurants.

OUTLOOK

The local economy is projected to achieve the targeted growth level of 5 percent in 2008 given the substantial investments in the sugar and rice industries and high commodity prices. Output of sugar, rice, gold, bauxite and timber are expected to increase thereby contributing to continued GDP growth.

For the remainder of the year, domestic prices are likely to be moderate but the downside risks from increases in global fuel and commodity prices remain. However, the passthrough effect of these price increases may be mitigated by the adoption of fiscal measures that promotes the sustainable growth of domestic agricultural commodities and tax waivers to control fuel prices. □

3. INTERNATIONAL TRADE AND BALANCE OF PAYMENTS

The overall balance of payments at end-June 2008 improved to a surplus of US$47.6 million from a deficit of US$12.3 million for the corresponding period last year. Higher capital inflows more than offset the impact of the growing current account deficit. The former was due largely to increased foreign direct investment while the latter stemmed from higher merchandise and service imports. The overall surplus contributed to the accumulation of foreign assets by the Bank of Guyana.

CURRENT ACCOUNT

The current account deficit increased to US$163.6 million from US$84.7 million one year ago. This was due to a widening of the merchandise trade and services deficit. Transfers, in the form of remittances, continued to grow but at a slower pace compared to the corresponding period in 2007.

OVERALL BALANCE	17.0	(12.3)	47.6

Merchandise Trade

The merchandise trade deficit amounted to US$261.3 million, 41.1 percent above the end of June 2007 level. This reflected a sharp rise in the value of imports by US$145 million to reach US$642.3 million, which more than offset the US$68.9 million increase in export earnings that amounted to US$381 million at end-June 2008.

Exports

Total export receipts amounted to US$381 million, 22.1 percent more than the US$312.2 million recorded at end-June 2007. This outturn mainly reflected a combination of higher volumes exported and favourable world prices for most of the key export commodities.

Sugar

Sugar export earnings amounted to US$57.8 million or 3 percent above the June 2007 value. This amount was due to higher price for the product in both inter-regional and extra-regional markets since there was a decline in export volume.

The volume of sugar exported decreased by 4 percent to 87,297 tonnes. Sugar exported to the EU under the Sugar Protocol of the Lome Convention was 91.7 percent of total sugar export, slightly more than the 87 percent recorded at end-June 2007. Total exports to the Caricom region amounted to 7.3 percent of total sugar exports, a decline from the 11.5 percent recorded for the corresponding period in 2007.

The average unit price of sugar exported increased due to higher market price, a result of world supply issues. The average price of sugar exported was 7.3 percent higher at US$662.2 per tonne at end-June 2008, a US$45.3 increase from US$616.9 per tonne for the corresponding 2007.

Rice

Rice export earnings amounted to US$50.5 million, 30.9 percent above the level in 2007. This achievement was mainly due to significantly higher prices for the product on the world market as total volume exported declined by 55,583 metric tonnes to 90,337 metric tonnes at end of June 2008. The decrease in export volume was due to a decline in stock levels at the start of the reporting period. The average export price of rice was US$558.9 per metric tonne or 111.4 percent higher than the price at the end of June 2007.

The EU and Caricom markets continued to be the major destination of rice exports, accounting for 41.5 percent and 43.8 percent of exports respectively in 2008, compared with 43.8 percent and 41 percent respectively for the corresponding period in 2007.

Bauxite

Receipts from bauxite exports amounted to US$68 million, 57.5 percent above the value for the corresponding period in 2007. Export volume rose to 1,214,891 tonnes at the end of June 2008 from 895,073 tonnes for the corresponding period in 2007. The average unit price witnessed a 16 percent increase to reach US$56 per metric tonne.

Metallurgical Grade Bauxite (MAZ) and Calcined

Grade Bauxite (RASC) continued to be the main categories of exports and amounted to 842,767 metric tonnes and 136,762 metric tonnes respectively, compared with 673,398 tonnes and 107,872 tonnes respectively for the same period in 2007. The expansion of bauxite export is attributed to the continual growth in capacity and output of both Bauxite Company of Guyana Inc and BOSAI Minerals Guyana Inc, in the context of expansion.

Gold

Receipts from gold exports were US$100.8 million, 46.4 percent higher than the end-June 2007 level. This level of receipt was due to an increase in export volume as the scale of mining activities by small and medium classed miners increased to take advantage of favourable world prices. Export volume rose to 120,264 ounces from 106,276 ounces recorded at end-June 2007. The average export price per ounce of gold rose to US$838, a 29.4 percent increase from the US$648 reported for the corresponding period in 2007.

Timber

The value of timber exports was US$23.9 million, 8.1 percent below the value for the corresponding period in 2007. The value of other timber exports declined by 2.8 percent to US$21.1 million, while the value of plywood exports decreased by 35.1 percent or US$1.5 million at end of June 2008.

Other Exports

Total earnings from all “other exports” (non-traditional exports including re-export) were US$80 million, 0.8 percent more than the value for the same period last year. This marginal increase reflected higher performances for the Fish & Shrimp, Prepared Foods Garments & Clothing sectors, as shown in table VII.

Imports

The value of merchandise imports grew by 29.2 percent to US$642.3 million. The increase mainly reflected higher food prices and the record prices for fuel oil and its resulting impact on other commodities. The three sub-sectors of imports – consumption, intermediate and capital goods – showed significant increases during the review period. Imports in the consumption goods sub-category amounted to US$152.9 million, an increase of 24.5 percent and reflected significant increases in the value of food for final consumption, other non-durables and motor vehicles. In the intermediate goods sub-category, imports amounted to US$354.1 million, 41.1 percent higher than the value in 2007.

Total Imports	423.5	497.3	642.3

This was due to an increase in the value of fuel and lubricants as well as the importation of other intermediate goods. In the sub-category capital goods, imports increased by 10.6 percent to US$129.9 million. This growth was mainly to facilitate new and ongoing public sector capital projects and inward private investments. Agricultural and mining machinery recorded the most significant increases.

Services and Unrequited Transfers

Net payment for services amounted to US$48 from US$31.1 million for the corresponding period in 2007. The expansion was influenced by payments for non-factor services.

Net payment for non-factor services was higher at 63.3 percent from US$25.6 million at end-June 2007 to US$41.8 million at end-June 2008. Higher net payment for non-factor services was due in large measure to a 44.4 percent increase in freight payment which amounted to US$61 million at end-June 2008. Net payments on the factor services account expanded by 11.9 percent million to US$6.1 million at end-June 2008. This was due to a combined reduction in net inflows of investment income and increased in interest payments on private sector debt.

Net current transfers continued to grow, increasing by 10.7 percent at end of the reporting period. The increase reflected higher inflows to the private sector in the form of workers' remittances. Net inflows of current transfers amounted to US$145.6 million compared with US$131.5 million at end-2007. Workers' remittances amounted to US$145 million compared with US$130 million one year ago. Receipts from bank accounts also rose from US$51.5 million at end-June 2007 to US$71.1 million in 2008. The main sources of outflows were workers' remittances and remittances to bank accounts, which amounted to US$33.2 million and US$40.2 million, respectively.

CAPITAL ACCOUNT

The capital account registered a higher surplus of US$184.6 million from the US$66.6 million in 2007. This level of surplus was due to higher net foreign direct investment which amounted to US$110 million from US$105 million in 2007. Investment was concentrated mainly in telecommunication, mining and forestry sectors. Net short-term private capital outflows fell to US$5.6 million from US$47.2 million for the corresponding period in June 2007. This reflected commercial banks disposal of foreign assets during the reporting period. Capital grants and debt relief received by the combined public sector amounted to US$21.7 million - a decline from the US$388.7 million at end-June 2007, and reflected the cancellation of Guyana's outstanding debt by the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela. The other grants were associated largely with projects under the Public Sector Investment Programme (PSIP). Loans disbursed to the Non-Financial Public Sector (net) increased by US$62.9 million to US$87 million at end-June 2008, as the country continues to benefit from trade credits associated with the Petrocaribe agreement which amounted to US$44.1 million during the first half of 2008. The other category largely represented remitted Petrocaribe funds of US$44.1 million for holding and investment purposes and US$15.09 million disbursed for the acquisition of power generators and other power utility works under this initiative.

Overall Balance and Financing

The higher surplus on the capital account which more than offset the widened current account deficit caused the overall balance to move from a deficit of US$12.3 million at end-June 2007 to a surplus of US$47.6 million at end-June 2008. In line with these developments gross international reserves of the Bank of Guyana increased appreciably during the reporting period from US$271.2 million at the end of June 2007 to US$380.9 million at end-June 2008, equivalent to 2.7 months of imports of goods and services.

OUTLOOK

In 2008, the overall balance of payments is expected to remain in surplus, as easing of international oil and commodity prices will help thwart a rapidly escalating import bill. A strong Euro and weakened US Dollar are likely to increase export receipts, especially in the gold and bauxite sectors. Remittances are expected to marginally decline during the remainder of 2008, a result of the global financial crisis and its impending ripple effects. Lower global interest rates are likely to influence banks to hold less short-term capital abroad, leading to lower negative balances in short-term capital. □

4. FOREIGN EXCHANGE MARKET DEVELOPMENTS

Total transactions on the foreign exchange market continued to grow on account of increased foreign trade. Overall transactions were higher by 25.1 percent when compared to the corresponding period of the previous year. The market has been impacted by increased inflows in the form of export receipts, remittances and capital transfers; and outflows associated with the rising cost of both merchandise and service imports. The exchange rate remained relatively stable during the review period.

Overall Market Volumes

Total foreign exchange transactions of the Bank of Guyana and cambios was US$2,412 million, 25.1 percent greater than the US$1,928 million recorded for the period January-June 2007. This outcome was on account of increased transactions by the cambio market and the Bank. Total cambio transactions amounted to US$1,176 million, 28 percent higher than the US$918 million recorded at the same time last year. The Bank of Guyana transactions totaled US$422.1 million, an increase of 43.9 percent over the corresponding period for 2007.

In the cambio segment of the market, foreign exchange sales marginally exceeded purchases. Total purchases amounted to US$586 million while sales were US$590 million, resulting in a net outflow US$4 million

Bank cambios accounted for US$1,100 million or 93.5 percent of the cambio market transactions while the non-bank cambios accounted for the residual amount. The bank and non-bank cambios reflected an increase in transactions by 29.71 percent and 8.5 percent, respectively, when compared with the first half of 2007.

The Bank of Guyana continued to be a major player in the foreign exchange market during the first half of 2008. Purchases and sales amounted to US$249.6 million and US$172.6 million, respectively. Higher overall purchases were related to export receipts from gold and sugar, official development assistance and greater purchases from the commercial banks. Purchases from and sales to commercial banks were US$30.9 million and US$11.4 million, respectively. Sales were effected largely to pay for fuel and other imports.

The value of transactions of foreign currency accounts increased by 12.1 percent to US$783.6 million when compared with last year's total of US$699.1 million. The debit and credits through these accounts totaled US$391.4 million and US$392.2 million respectively, compared with US$347.1 million and US$352 million respectively. Nine (9) foreign currency accounts were approved (which includes exporters' retention accounts) for the review period. Eleven (11) were approved at end-June 2007.

The Exchange Rates

The Guyana dollar was relatively stable, depreciating by only 0.25 percent against the US dollar during the first half of 2008, reflecting the steady inflow of foreign currency in the market.

The Bank's transactions exchange rate, which is the G$/US$ weighted mid-rate of the three largest dealers depreciated to G$204 from its value of G$203.50 at the end of December 2007. The unweighted mid-rate of the three largest dealers in the market depreciated from G$201.25 at the end of December 2007 to G$202.25 at the end of the review period. The weighted rate replaced the unweighted rate for the computation of Bank's transactions rate with effect from June 25, 2007.

The reported total cambio market spread between the buying and selling exchange rates was G$2.46 at the end of the review period, compared with G$3.51 at the end of June 2007.

The bank cambios' average buying rates depreciated to G$201.2 at the end of June 2008 from G$200.96 at the end of December 2007. The average selling rate exhibited a slight depreciation to reach G$205.26 from G$205.16 for the same period.

The non-bank cambios' average buying and selling rates declined to G$200.23 and G$202.04 at end June 2008 from G$200.26 and G$202.75 at the end of December 2007.

The difference between the banks' and non-banks' buying rates moved from G$0.70 in December 2007 to G$0.97 at the end of June 2008. This reflects mostly an increase in the buying rates of the commercial banks. The difference in the selling rates moved from G$2.41 to G$3.22 for the same period. Overall the commercial banks have raised their selling rates, while rates at the non-banks were lower.

The US dollar continued to be the currency of choice, accounting for 87.8 percent of the cambio market turnover. Trade in the Pound Sterling, Euro and the Canadian dollar were 4.8 percent, 4.6 percent and 2.77 percent respectively of the total.

The value of trade involving CARICOM currencies, during the review period amounted to US$30.3 million, compared with US$17.4 million at June 2007. The Barbados and Eastern Caribbean currencies continued to dominate trading, together accounting for 96.9 percent of the total.

The exchange rates for Bahamas, Barbados, Belize and the Eastern Caribbean countries continued to be fixed, while the rates of the Jamaica and Trinidad & Tobago currencies experienced a mild depreciation and appreciation respectively.

OUTLOOK

The exchange rate is expected to remain relatively stable for the remainder of the year. This outlook is expected from a projected favourable balance of payments position. The Bank will also continue to broaden and deepen the foreign exchange market with orderly foreign exchange flows. During the remainder of the year, the Bank is projecting to purchase US$116.5 million from GUYSUCO and the Gold Board while its sales to finance essential imports and meet publicly guaranteed debt obligations is expected to be US$232.7 million. □

5. PUBLIC FINANCE

The overall financial operations of the public sector, computed on a cash basis, deteriorated because of higher current expenditure by the central government and current and capital expenditures by the Non-Financial Public Enterprises (NFPEs). The central government, however, recorded a higher surplus on account of increased capital receipts which offset the increase in current expenditure. The overall cash deficit of the NFPEs expanded at end-June 2008, mainly on account of the expanded capital programs of Guyana Sugar Corporation (GUYSUCO) and Guyana Power and Light Inc.

CENTRAL GOVERNMENT

The central government's overall surplus rose by 78.1 percent to G$7,965 million from G$4,473 million at end-June 2007. This performance was due to a significant growth in capital receipts which accrued from grants.

Current Account

The current account experienced a decline in surplus from G$13,585 million at end-June 2007 to G$9,139 million at end-June 2008. This reflected comparatively slower nominal growth in current revenue and larger increase in current expenditure during the review period.

Revenue

Total current revenue (excluding the reimbursable rice levy) rose by 4.9 percent to G$42,449 million, and represented 52 percent of the annual budgeted amount. The relatively slower growth in revenues is attributed to the consolidation of VAT, lower excise tax on fuel and the removal of VAT from a number of basic items.

Collections from both the Internal Revenue Department and Customs & Trade Administration increased during the review period. Other revenue also grew due to higher profits by Bank of Guyana and equity holdings.

The Internal Revenue Department's receipts increased by 9.5 percent to G$19,009 million, representing 45 percent of the total current revenue and 23 percent of the year's target. The outturn was due mainly to the 35 percent and 15 percent increase in property tax and income tax from business and self-employed persons, respectively, to G$1,032 million and G$8,974 million, respectively. Withholding taxes grew by 25 percent to G$1,273 million, while personal income taxes fell 15.5 percent to G$5,600 million.

Figure VII

The Customs & Trade Administration's collection decreased by 2.7 percent to G$20,875 million. This represented 49.1 percent of total current revenue and 26 percent of the amount budgeted for the year. The decrease principally reflected a 3.3 percent reduction in the collection of revenues of Excise Tax, which totaled G$6,726 million. Receipts from the Value Added Tax (VAT) amounted to G$11,032 million, an 8.3 percent increase from one year ago, while exports duties fell slightly by 0.8 percent to G$3,972 million.

Other current revenues increased by 56 percent to G$2,565 million, and principally reflected the payment of Bank of Guyana profits to the Ministry of Finance as well as equity holdings from public companies and other similar agencies. Fines, fees & charges, however, rose by 6.1 percent to G$414 million.

Expenditure

Total current expenditure increased by 24 percent to G$33,310 million, or 45 percent of the budgeted amount for the year. This outturn reflected a larger wage bill on account of the 5 percent increase in public sector wages granted in the second quarter of 2008, and the increase in most other recurrent items. Total employment costs increased by 10 percent to G$11,008 million, while total interest charges declined by 4 percent to G$2,317 million. Purchases of other goods and services increased by 54.7 percent, and reflected increases in electricity charges and miscellaneous charges of 121 percent and 63 percent, respectively, to G$2,915 million and G$3,634 million, respectively.

Transfer payments rose by 21 percent to G$8,842 million. This reflected increases of 20.6 percent in subsidies & contributions to local & international organizations to G$4,854 million, and 27.5 percent in pensions to G$ 3,069 million.

Figure VIII

Capital Account

The capital account surplus increased by $7,939 million to G$1,174 million at end-June 2008, and reflected the G$7,013 million growth in capital revenues. This outturn was due to a rise in non-project grants which stood at G$6,408 million as a result of the review of the process of extending these funds by specific donors. HIPC relief increased slightly by 4.9 percent to G$822 million at end June 2008. Grant flows under the Multilateral Debt Relief Initiative also rose by 61 percent to G$1,832 million.

Capital expenditure declined by 6.9 percent or G$924 million to G$12,525 million, reflecting government's on lending to the Skeldon Modernisation Project as well as the Petrocaribe Finance Project.

Overall Balance and Financing

The overall surplus improved to G$7,965 million from G$4,473 million at end-June 2008. Net domestic financing recorded a decrease in net repayments to G$2,307 million from G$2,668 million at end-June 2007.

Net external borrowing grew by G$5,764 million to G$11,605 million. This reflected the 142 percent increase in disbursements to G$11,738 million, even as loan repayments contracted by 57 percent to G$612.4 million.

NON-FINANCIAL PUBLIC ENTERPRISES

The overall cash deficit of Non-Financial Public Enterprises (NFPEs), including the Guyana Power & Light (GPL) and the National Insurance Scheme (NIS), expanded to G$6,980 million at end June 2008. This was mainly due to the capital programs of Guyana Sugar Corporation (GUYSUCO) and GPL.

Current Account

The current cash balance of the NFPEs moved from a surplus of G$973 million to a deficit of G$254 million. This outcome was mainly on account of relatively higher expenditure, which together with slightly lower transfers to central government, in the form of taxes, caused the overall current cash balance to deteriorate from a surplus of G$251 million to a deficit of G$919 million.

Receipts

The total cash receipts of the NFPEs increased by 20 percent to G$46,271 million. The outturn reflected an increase in export and local sales as well as receipts from debtors. The increase in export sales was on account of higher sales from Guysuco while local sales and receipts from debtors was due mainly to higher revenues from both the Guyana Oil Company and the Guyana Power & Light.

Local sales and receipts from debtors grew by 25.3 percent and 20.5 percent, respectively, to G$24,524 million and G$7,350 million, respectively. Other receipts increased by 18.6 percent to G$768 million.

Expenditure

Total current expenditure of the NFPEs expanded by 23.6 percent to G$46,524 million. This was due mainly to a 40.4 percent increase in expenditure on material and supplies to G$17,113 million, and a 64 percent or G$338 million increase maintenance cost.

Employment costs and payments to creditors increased by 15.6 percent and 27.1 percent, respectively, to G$10,337 million and G$11,280 million, respectively. Interest costs declined by 92.4 percent to G$136 million.

Capital Account

Capital expenditure of the NFPEs increased by G$5,187 million to G$6,061 million. This outturn includes G$3,073 million Petrocaribe Finance Project for GPL and G$2,981 capital outlays by GUYSUCO for its Skeldon Modernization Program, which is reflected in the capital program of central government, on account of the on-lending arrangement set up to finance the project.

Overall Balance and Financing

The overall deficit of the NFPEs expanded to G$6,980 million from G$1,777 million at end-June 2007. This was financed from domestic resources.

6. PUBLIC DEBT

The economy experienced a higher stock of public debt during the review period. The stock of government's domestic bonded debt increased by 7.6 percent, while its external public and publicly guaranteed debt rose by 16.8 percent from end-June 2007. The former is attributed to an increase in the issuance and hence higher holdings of treasury bills, while the latter is due to higher IDB disbursements and bilateral credit delivered under the Petrocaribe Initiative. Both domestic and external debt service rose from their June 2007 levels.

Stock of Domestic Debt

The outstanding stock of government domestic bonded debt, which consisted of treasury bills, debentures, bonds and the Caricom loan, amounted to G$74,223 million, a increase of 7.6 percent from end-June 2007 and 7 percent from end-December 2007 balance. The increase from one year earlier reflected the expansion in the stock of outstanding government treasury bills at end-June 2007. The stock of defence and Guymine bonds remained unchanged at G$3 million and G$3,969 million, respectively. On the other hand, CARICOM Loan and Debentures contracted by 4.9 percent and 25.8 percent respectively. The latter was attributed mainly to the redemption of G$3,043 million by Republic Bank Guyana Limited (formerly National Bank of Industry and Commerce).

The stock of treasury bills increased by 15.8 percent to G$60,867 million at end-June 2008. The maturity structure of the outstanding stock of treasury bills shifted towards the 91-day and 364-day treasury bills. The 364-day bills accounted for the largest share with 90.4 percent, an increase of 2.9 percentage points when compared to end-June 2007. The share of the 91-day bills increased by 1.4 percentage points to 3.4 percent while that of the 182-day bills declined by 4.3 percentage points to reach 6.2 percent at end-June 2008.

The volume of 91-day bills and 364-day bills increased by 94 percent and 19.7 percent to G$2,065 million and G$55,028 million respectively at end-June 2008. However, the stock of 182-day bills declined by 31.6 percent to G$3,773 million.

Relief from the International Monetary Fund (IMF) and IDA declined by 21 percent and 4 percent, respectively to US$4 million and US$2 million, respectively, while relief by Inter-American Development Bank increased by 12.6 percent to US$10 million. 7. FINANCIAL SECTOR DEVELOPMENTS

Key monetary aggregates continued to grow with increased economic activity. Reserve money grew by 9.6 percent due to an expansion in the Bank's net foreign assets (NFA), while broad money growth of 6.6 percent was underpinned by increase in the banking system NFA and expansion in private sector credit. The commercial banks' interest rates declined marginally; consequently, interest rate spreads remained relatively high. The non-bank financial institutions continued the active mobilization of financial resources.

MONETARY DEVELOPMENTS

Reserve Money

Reserve or base money expanded by 9.6 percent to G$59,780 million. The higher level of reserve money stemmed primarily from the 32.6 percent increase in credit to the public sector and 30.6 percent increase in net foreign assets of the Bank of Guyana.

The expansion in the reserve money is reflected in a 35.2 percent increase in commercial banks deposits. Currency in circulation declined by 3 percent.

Money Supply

Narrow money (M1), consisting of currency in circulation, private sector demand deposits and cashiers' cheques and acceptances, amounted to G$55,303 million, 2 percent above the end-December 2007 level. This was due to the increase in demand deposits while cashiers' cheques and acceptances and currency in circulation reduced by 36.5 percent and 3 percent, respectively during the review period.

Broad money (M2), comprising currency in circulation and private sector deposits, grew by 6.6 percent to G$174,210 million. The expansion was due to 17.9 percent and 5.7 percent increase in NFA and credit to the private sector, respectively.

The increase in M2 is reflected in an 8.9 percent growth in quasi-money, comprising interest-earning deposits of the private sector. This was 0.2 percentage points above the growth for the corresponding period in 2007 and resulted primarily from a 9.0 percent increase in savings deposits associated with higher earnings and remittances-related inflows. Time deposits increased by 8.3 percent reflecting individual customers' preference for longer term deposits.

Money Multiplier and Income Velocity

The M2 multiplier decreased during the review period by 0.04 percentage point to 2.86. This was on account of increased excess reserves held by commercial banks.

The income velocity of money circulation, defined as the ratio of GDP to M2, stood at 1.25 compared with 1.23 for the corresponding period last year. This indicated a relatively higher growth of GDP when compared to that of M2.

Commercial Banks Deposits

Residents' deposits, comprising the public and private sectors as well as the non-bank financial institutions, were higher with the commercial banks during the review period. Total resident deposits amounted to G$184,337 million, 11.6 percent more than that of the corresponding 2007 period.

Deposits

Private sector deposits, which accounted for 74.0 percent of total deposits, grew by 9.7 percent compared with a 7.7 percent growth for the corresponding period. Business enterprises deposits grew 11.7 percent to G$24,427 million on account of increased business activity while individual customers' deposits grew by 9.2 percent to G$119,219 million and is associated with higher income and remittances-related inflows.

The deposits of the public sector expanded by 20.4 percent to G$29,925 million compared with an increase of 10.2 percent for the corresponding period in 2007. This was due to a 69 percent and 17 percent increase, respectively in deposits of the central government and public enterprises to G$7,272 million and G$13,056 million, respectively, as a result of higher revenues. Total general government deposits, comprising central and local government, increased by 23.1 percent to G$16,869 million.

The deposits of the non-bank financial institutions grew by 15.3 percent to G$10,767 million during the review period compared to a growth of 2.3 percent for the corresponding period last year. The increase represented higher bank balances.

Net foreign assets of the Bank increased by 30.3 percent to US$285.8 million from the US$219.4 million recorded at end-December 2007. The foreign assets of the Bank increased by US$68 million during the review period while the foreign liabilities increased by US$2 million from the US$93.2 million registered at end-December 2007.

Small savings rate declined to 3.08 from 3.15 indicating commercial banks' strategy of maintaining spreads. The inter-bank market interest rate hovered around 4 percent over the review period.

The commercial banks' interest rate spreads between the small savings rate and the prime lending rate remained high at 11.46 percent at the end of June 2008. The Licensed Depository Financial Institutions (LDFIs) reported higher levels of capital and profits during the six months period ended June 30, 2008. The Capital Adequacy Ratio (CAR) when compared with end-December 2007 remained well above the prudential benchmark of 8 percent. The loan portfolio was impaired by a 5 percent increase in the level of non-performing loans but was buffered by adequate provision.

Capital Adequacy Profiles

Composition of Capital

The average Capital Adequacy Ratio (CAR) for the LDFIs was 15.4 percent at end-June 2008 compared with 15 percent at end-December 2007. The increase in the ratio resulted from a 4.4 percent increase in Tier I capital and a similar change in risk-weighted assets.

The total qualifying capital of the LDFIs grew by 7.2 percent to G$15,137 million during the review period compared with the 7.8 percent growth for the same period last year. This increase resulted mainly from a 4.4 percent increase in Tier I capital. The growth in Tier I capital, which stood at G$14,379 million at end-June 2008, was due to marginal increases in both retained earnings and reserve fund over the end-June 2007 levels.

Risk-weighted Assets

The aggregate net risk-weighted assets of LDFIs for the first half of 2008 grew by 4.5 percent to

G$98,118 million compared with the 17.3 percent growth during the same period in 2007. The growth in risk-weighted assets reflected increase in real estate loans, as well as an expansion in credit to the households and services sectors, ranging between 23 percent and 27 percent.

Asset Quality

Non-performing loans

The LDFIs' non-performing loans at end-June 2008 grew by G$387 million or 5 percent to G$7,533 million and represented 10 percent of total loans, unchanged from end-December 2007. However, compared with end-June 2007, non-performing loans as a percentage of total loans declined by 2 percentage points. Deterioration in the quality of the loan portfolio of one LDFI amounting to G$387 million was the sole contributor to the increase in total non-performing loans.

On a sectoral basis, non-performing loans rose by 6 percent in the business enterprise sector and by 5 percent in the households sector. The agriculture sector had the largest increase in non-performing loans of 28 percent compared with the 6 percent fall-off as at end-December 2007. Livestock and sugar cane sub-sectors, which represented respective 34 percent and 12 percent of the sector, were the major contributors to the 28 percent. Non-performing loans in the manufacturing sector climbed by 13 percent or G$356 million over December 2007. Increases amounting to G$449 million in the sugar and molasses sub-sector and G$218 million in the rice milling sub-sector were responsible for the deteriorated position of the manufacturing sector.

Non-performing loans within the mining and quarrying sector (bauxite, gold, and other, inclusive of diamond and precious stones) showed significant improvement with a 73 percent reduction for the period under review. The gold sub-sector accounted for 95 percent of this sector's non-performing loans, while diamond and other precious stones accounted for the remaining 5 percent. These two sub-sectors reported declines of 73 percent and 80 percent, respectively.

Overall, the services sector reported a one percent decrease for the period under review. Of the six sub-sectors with non-performing loans, the distribution (wholesale and retail trade) sub-sector accounted for 60 percent of those loans and the other services sub-sector accounted for 36 percent.

The ratio of provision for loan losses to non-performing loans at end-June 2008 was 52 percent, 4 percentage points below that recorded at end-December 2007. The change in the ratio resulted from a 5 percent increase in non-performing loans and a 3.5 percent decline in the provision for loan losses due to lower levels of provision for some reclassified non-performing loans. However, when compared with June 2007, the June 2008 ratio was 8 percentage points higher

Loan Concentration

Loans to the top twenty borrowers amounted to G$27,825 million, 6 percent below the G$29,472 million reported at end-June 2007. This outcome was due primarily to the consolidated declines recorded by four institutions ranging from 3 percent to 37 percent, while the remaining three institutions reported increases of less than 1 percent, 3 percent and 13 percent, respectively. Consequently, the ratio of loans to top twenty borrowers to total loans fell from 46 percent to 37 percent over the twelve months period. At the end of the first half of this year, total loans grew by 8 percent above the level recorded at end-December 2007 to reach G$74,760 million with six LDFIs having expanded loan portfolios.

For the first half of 2008 loans to related parties expanded by 6.2 percent above end-June 2007 level (which had recorded a 13.7 percent increase over June 2006). The ratio of such loans to total loans shifted slightly to 5.4 percent from 5.9 percent at end-June 2007, largely as a result of total loans increasing at a faster rate than loans to related parties.

EARNINGS

Income

Operating/gross income of LDFIs amounted to G$12,301 million for the half-year ended June 30, 2008 due to a 34 percent (G$3,097 million) increase in operating income above the G$9,204 million reported for the same period last year. The increase was primarily attributed to the growth in interest income, which grew by 40 percent as a result of the 15.9 percent increase in private sector credit.

Expenses

The aggregate operating expenses of the LDFIs grew by 44 percent to G$8,494 million. This resulted mainly from a 110 percent (G$2,658 million) increase in interest expenses, reflective of a 16 percent (G$20,086 million) growth in deposits when compared with end-June 2007.

Net income before tax for the LDFIs increased by 15 percent to reach G$3,807 million for the first half of 2008. Net income after tax increased by 17.7 percent to G$2,762 million. These increases, coupled with asset growth resulted in an unchanged ROE of 14.4 percent and a 10 basis points increase in ROA to 1.3 percent when compared with the same period in 2007.

LIQUIDITY

During the first half of 2008, the level of liquidity in the financial sector remained high, with all the LDFIs exceeding the minimum statutory requirements. The average liquid assets held by LDFIs amounted to G$66,740 million, 21 percent (G$11,567 million) above the average level recorded for the corresponding period in 2007. This growth resulted from increases in reserve deposits and investments in Government of Guyana treasury bills.

The average liquid asset ratio (LAR) grew from 27.7 percent at end-June 2007 to 28.8 percent at end-June 2008. In spite of a 17 percent growth in required liquid assets, the LDFIs were able to hold liquid assets at an average 57 percent above the required level. When compared with June 2007, excess liquid assets rose by 28 percent. The customer deposits to total (non-inter bank) loans ratio, which indicates the ability of the LDFIs to support loan growth with deposits, increased by 150 basis points to 269.5 percent at end-June 2008.

INTERNATIONAL ECONOMIC AND MONETARY DEVELOPMENTS

The World Economy

The global economy has experienced a significant slowdown amidst a deepening international financial crisis. Advanced economies have seen the brunt of this so far, with emerging economies still yet to see the full impact of this crisis. The US economy, while still experiencing positive (albeit minimal) growth, has seen a sharp decline in employment, private consumption, and imports. The Euro area, while also under recessionary pressure, has seen stronger economic growth than in the United States. The Caribbean on the other hand, has had mixed results as global commodity prices are at all-time highs, though significant inflationary pressures across the region threaten to wipe away any potential gains as a result of this phenomenon.

Industrial Countries

Output

Almost all countries saw a sharp deceleration in economic activity during the review period. This came amidst a worsening global financial and investment climate as the credit crisis worsened. While the US and EU saw a significant slowdown in economic growth during the first two quarters, Japan has been largely unhurt by the crisis, and is expected to post a modest growth.

In the USA, real GDP is forecasted to grow by around 0.2 percent during the second quarter after a faster pace of 1 percent in the first quarter. This slowdown came amidst a deepening housing crisis and falling profitability for companies struggling to deal with the tightening of credit conditions. In Canada, output grew 1.7 percent in the first half of 2008.

The Euro area experienced better growth than in North America, expanding by 2.2 percent in the first quarter and is forecasted by the ECB to slow to 1.9 percent in the second quarter of 2008. The growth came as a result of stronger performances across the board and from Germany in particular, which experienced its strongest quarterly growth in the last twelve years. Growth in these countries was driven by strong investment activity. In the United Kingdom, output grew by around 1.6 percent in the second quarter of 2008, down from 2.7 percent in 2007. Growth in the United Kingdom slowed as the continuing credit crisis and a particularly steep decline in housing prices dampened the economic climate.

Japan continued to see stronger economic activity than in previous years, growing by a surprising 0.8 percent in the first quarter but grew by 0.1 percent in the second quarter of 2008. The key drivers of growth were stronger exports and private consumption, both outperforming expectations. The Japanese economy is expected to grow by 1.3 percent for the full year.

Inflation

Strong inflationary pressures persist across all industrial countries amidst record high global commodity prices. Weaker labour market conditions however are expected to ease pressures going forward. Inflation in the USA was 5 percent, while in Canada, inflation was 3.1 percent. The annual inflation rate in Britain was at an 11-year high of 3.8 percent, well above the 2 percent target rate, while the Euro area recorded an uncomfortably high level of inflation at 4 percent. In Japan inflation hit 1.9 percent in June, the fastest pace since January 1998 when consumer prices rose 2 percent.

Employment

Labour markets tightened significantly during the review period, reflecting the downturn in these economies. In the United States and Canada, the unemployment rates hovered around 5.5 and 6.2 percent, respectively. The unemployment rate in Britain stood at 5.2 percent, while the Euro Area rate rose to 7.2 percent. In Japan, the unemployment rate rose to 4 percent from 3.8 percent.

Monetary and Exchange Rates

The review period has seen a drastic loosening of monetary and credit conditions as central banks struggle to cope with the worsening financial crisis. This, however, has had a sharp impact on the inflation rate.

The targeted Federal Fund rate in the USA fell drastically from 5.25 percent in 2007 to 2 percent as of June 2008, while the ECB refinancing rate stood at 4 percent and the Bank of England rate fell to 5 percent from 5.75 percent a year ago.

The United States dollar stayed fairly constant against pound sterling as compared to a year ago, hovering around the 1.99 mark. The Dollar/Euro rate on the other hand has depreciated significantly from one year ago and now stands at 1.57. The Japanese yen also fell modestly against the United States dollar, trading at US$1:¥106, compared with US$1:¥123 a year ago. The Canadian dollar was traded at $1.02 per United States dollar from $1.06 a year ago.

Emerging Economies

Output

Despite weaker global financial and economic conditions, emerging economies continued to register strong growth on the back of strong domestic demand and higher global commodity prices. In China, the growth rate was 10.1 percent compared with 10.6 percent during the first quarter and slower than a year ago. The majority of the slowdown can be attributed to lower export demand and weaker credit conditions. Full year forecasts stand at around 9.8 percent, significantly slower than last year's strong performance. In India growth accelerated to 9.3 percent in the first half of the year but is expected to slow down significantly to around 7.8 percent for the full year. This comes amidst record high inflation figures and extremely tight monetary conditions constraining growth.

Inflation

CPI inflation in China was 7.9 percent compared with 11.5 percent a year ago. This comes amidst record high food prices in China. In India, the rate of inflation touched a record high 11.1 percent as a result of a sharp cut in fuel subsidies. The growth in consumer prices in Russia was 15.1 percent compared to 7.2 percent in 2007.

Employment

There was an overall decline in the rate of unemployment in these economies. However, rates are still considered to be relatively high. The rate of unemployment in China and India remained at 4 percent and 7.3 percent, respectively. In Russia, the unemployment rate was narrowed to 6.2 percent.

Caribbean Economies

Output

The Caribbean states experienced small but positive growth during the first half of the year, a majority of which can be attributed to high commodity export price. Barbados, Trinidad & Tobago, Jamaica and the Eastern Caribbean Currency Union all experienced positive growth during the review period.

The Barbadian economy registered positive but lower growth than 2007 as a result of a slowdown in tourism receipts amidst a weakening US dollar. The construction, transport and communications sectors continued to perform well, thus offering a counterbalance to the sharp fall in tourism. Growth is forecast to remain strong in Trinidad & Tobago as the country benefits from record high international energy prices. In Jamaica, a depressed tourism industry, and a shortfall in investment will lead to a less than expected performance in the first half of the year.

Inflation

There was a sharp upward trend in inflation across the region. The inflation rate rose marginally in Barbados to 4.7 percent though food prices went up 8 percent. In Trinidad & Tobago the inflation rate rose to 11.3 percent in June 2008 as a result of high food prices, and represented the highest year-on-year rate recorded since April 1994. Latest inflation data from Jamaica shows a dramatic increase in the inflation rate, which now stands at 2.9 percent compared to 1.3 percent in June 2007. In the Eastern Caribbean Currency Union, higher food and oil prices continue to impact inflation, and inflation is expected to touch double digit levels.

Employment

The sustained levels of stronger economic activity translated into generally improved labour market conditions in the Caribbean states. In Barbados, the unemployment rate remained at its lowest level of 8.7 percent. The unemployment rate in Trinidad & Tobago was even lower at around 6 percent, reflecting a tight labour market.

Exchange Rates

In the Caribbean, the exchange rate for Barbados, Belize and the Eastern Caribbean Currency Union remained fixed, while the performance for the floating currencies was mixed. The Trinidad & Tobago dollar appreciated by 1.9 percent to reach TT$6.14 per US dollar at the end of June 2008. The Jamaican dollar, however, depreciated by 4.2 percent to J$71.08 per US dollar.

Commodity Markets

Commodity prices remained high during the first half of 2008. The price of crude oil rose to record highs in the first half of the year, touching the US$140 level before receding to slightly lower levels. Supply issues, along with strong demand from fuel subsidy based emerging economies and speculation in the forwards market contributed to the high prices.

Non-oil commodity prices also increased during the review period. The price of gold increased from US$828.5 per ounce at end 2007 to around US$932.8 at end-June 2008. The average price of sugar was US$665 per metric tonne, compared with US$615.8 per metric tonne at end 2007. However, the average price of rice on the world market hovered around US$558.9 per metric tonne at end-June 2008.

Outlook for the World Economy

For the remainder of the year, the global economy is expected to remain weak and forecasts suggest strong recessionary pressures are in store for most of the major economies. The USA is projecting growth to moderate to 1.3 percent by the end of 2008. Nevertheless, the economy is projected to contract during the second half of the year, as consumption would be dampened by rising oil and food prices. Growth projections for the Euro Area is forecasted to be 1.7 percent, while the Japanese economy is expected to grow by 1.1 percent. Growth in the China and India are expected to ease to around 9.8 percent and 7.8 percent, respectively, in 2008.

Energy and commodity prices will also continue to remain high in 2008 as supply issues remain largely unresolved. □

III

MONETARY POLICY AND BANK ACTIVITIES

The conduct of monetary policy during the first half of 2008 was guided by the policy to contain the external influenced inflationary pressure while creating the enabling environment for credit and economic growth. The Bank acknowledged the danger of the persistence of high inflation from rising oil and food prices on the world market as well as seasonal factors and sterilized any excess liquidity that may be inflationary, undermining growth and macroeconomic stability. Consequently, there was a G$7.9 billion net issue of treasury bills during the first half of 2008. The Bank continues to facilitate efficient intermediation through the issuance of notes and coins as well as promotion of enhanced payment system operation.

MONETARY POLICY

Monetary policy recommendations were determined within the framework of monetary programming and the evolving circumstances impinging on inflation expectance, macroeconomic stability and growth momentum. The Bank's principal instrument of monetary control continued to be the auction of treasury bills in the primary market. The monetary policy stance was signaled through the volume of treasury bills issued with implications for the general level of interest rates.

MONETARY PROGRAMMING

In principle, monetary programming allowed the Bank to set a targeted path for the growth of broad money consistent with output, growth and inflation. Its foundation rested on the observation that the Bank controls the supply of reserve or base money in the financial system. The underlying assumption for the effective operation of the reserve money programme was the long term stable money multiplier defined as the relationship between reserve money and the total money supply. On the basis of the constancy of the money multiplier, the Bank is able to attain the targeted expansion in the money stock by managing the growth in reserve money.

Reserve money which is comprised of currency in circulation and commercial banks' reserves is influenced mainly by the operations of the Bank. Changes in the Bank's net foreign assets and net domestic assets (which is largely affected by the operations of the Central Government) impact on the level of reserve money. The Bank's intervention in the foreign exchange market will affect the liquidity conditions when it buys or sells foreign exchange in the system. Since the counter parties to the Bank's foreign currency transactions are the commercial banks, the transactions affect the net foreign assets and the net domestic assets of the commercial banks, while the net foreign assets and hence reserve money of the Bank are affected.

A sale of foreign currency by the Bank will increase the net foreign assets and reduces the net domestic assets of the commercial banks and vice versa. On the Bank's balance sheet a sale of foreign currency will reduce its net foreign assets as well as its liabilities to commercial banks and hence reserve money. On the other hand, a purchase of foreign currency by the Bank will increase its net foreign assets and also reserve money.

The operations of Government add or withdraw liquidity from the system. An increase in net credit to the government, which will increase the net domestic assets of the Bank, results in an increase in reserve money. This usually occurs through a relative increase in expenditure compared to the increase in revenue. The net deposits of the Central Government are therefore affected.

During the review period, weekly forecasts of the Bank's balances sheet were produced based on estimated liquid reserve positions of the commercial banks and the public, collectively referred to as reserve money. These forecasts were compared with the weekly targeted monetary growth which was consistent with the set nominal output objective. The deviations established by this comparison indicated the baseline scenario level of the open market operation necessary to bring the forecast money supply in line with its targeted annual growth rate. The actual weekly intervention was determined by the Open Market Operation Committee (OMOC) on the basis of prevailing developments and the base scenario.

During the review period reserve money was G$59,780 million, G$2,406 million above the target. The actual increase in reserve money was due to higher net foreign assets of the Bank of Guyana. The net domestic assets of the Bank, which also impacts reserve money, increased on account of lower Central Government deposits.

The auction of treasury bills with various maturities (91-day, 182-day and 364-day) at the primary market level continued to be the Bank's principal instrument of monetary control. The OMOC adopted a consultative approach during the review period by liaising closely with agencies which impacted directly on liquidity in the financial sector. Additionally, other information such as the state of the foreign exchange market, the interbank market, the structure of interest rates and the liquidity position of the non-bank financial institutions facilitated more informed decisions by the OMOC.

During the review period, there was a net issue of treasury bills of G$7,941 million. Total redemptions were G$33,091 million. However, due to relatively tighter liquidity condition in the form of lower free reserves, the total issuance was G$41,032 million. Lower free reserve is explained by 5.7 percent or G$4,190 million increase in private sector credit and a 17.9 percent or G$14,873 million growth in net foreign assets during the review period. The commercial banks holdings of treasury bills increased by G$10,103 million for the first half of 2008 compared with G$1,261 million for the corresponding period last year.

Tight liquidity condition is also reflected in the interbank market. There were sixty-three trades during the first half of 2008 representing a 69.1 percent increase over the same period in 2007. The value of funds traded during the review period was G$20,475 million, which is down by 60 percent over the corresponding period in 2007.

Notwithstanding the tighter liquidity conditions, interest rates did not increase. Treasury bill rates trended downwards reflecting the need to hold liquid assets. Commercial banks savings and prime lending rates remained stable, indicating the ease in mobilizing deposits and the relatively high rate of return on credit portfolio, respectively.

Over the review period, monetary policy was able to contain inflationary at 5.8 percent compared with 12.2 percent for the first half of 2007. An enabling environment was also achieved to maintain macroeconomic stability and foster economic growth in the economy. The persistent increase in prices however, required the Bank to be ready to act promptly with possible measures as appropriate to evolving circumstances impinging on inflation expectation.

OUTLOOK FOR THE SECOND HALF OF 2008

In light of continued price increases during the first half of the year, the Bank has revised its inflation target to 7.5 percent for 2008. To achieve this, the Bank will intensify its Open Market Operations (OMOs) to restrict the growth of money to mitigate second round price increases. Further, a tighter fiscal stance by the government in the form of lower current expenditure will be needed to support the Bank's efforts to keep inflation low. The Bank will also respond swiftly with appropriate measures to evolving circumstances that may impinge on inflation expectation and macroeconomic stability.

RESERVE MANAGEMENT

The international financial environment posed many challenges for the Bank's Investment Committee during the first half of 2008. The subprime mortgage crisis in the US housing sector and high global inflation due to increasing commodities and petroleum prices, have adversely affected the world's economy and in particular the bonds, money and treasury markets.

The Bank's portfolio increased from US$313 million at end-December 2007 to US$381 million at end-June 2008. The bias towards US dollars continued to denominate investments although new investments were made in Pounds Sterling and Euro instruments. During the review period, the Bank realigned its portfolio to reduce risk associated with the subprime mortgage crisis and in particular the liquidity crunch. A greater portion of the Bank's foreign assets was held in money market instruments (short term) as against investments in bonds. Additionally, the composition of investments in US Agencies was changed with a reduction in holdings in the mortgage backed bonds.

Foreign income from investment was $1,226 million or 74 percent more than that in the corresponding period in year 2007. The major factor for the increase in earnings was the turbulence in the bond market, due to the uncertainty of the US housing crisis, which resulted in calls and sell off of bonds. Income earned over the period translated into an annualized return on investment of 3.2 percent compared with 2.5 percent over the corresponding period in 2007. Capital gains from the swap & call of bonds accounted for 44 percent of income earned during the period of review.

BANK ACTIVITIES

Currency Operations

The Bank has a statutory obligation to issue the country's notes and coins under section 21(1) of the Bank of Guyana Act 1998, No. 19 of 1998. The Bank continued to discharge this obligation in the face of increased demand and rising acquisition costs.

Notes

The total value of currency notes in circulation (including notes held in the vaults of commercial banks) at the end of June 2008 amounted to G$30,397 million, an increase of 20.6 percent when compared to G$25,205 at the end of June 2007. The share of G$1,000 in the total value of notes in circulation increased to 92.9 percent from 91.7 percent, while the share of G$500, G$100 and G$20 fell to 3.2 percent from 3.9 percent, to 2.8 percent from 3.1 percent and to 1.1 from 1.3 percent, respectively.

The total supply of currency was reduced by 5.65 percent over June 2007. The reduction was due to reduced imports during this period.

The Policy of ensuring only acceptable quality notes are in circulation continued during the review period. This was achieved by regular withdrawals of mutilated, defaced or otherwise poor quality notes and replacing them with new notes. Mutilated, defaced and poor quality notes amounting to G$133,775,200 were replaced in the first half of 2008 compared with G$128,311,480 in the first half of 2007 and G$95,351,420 in the first half of 2006.

Coins

Coins issued by the Bank of Guyana amounted to G$563 million at the end of June 2008, an increase of 10.8 percent above the G$508 million in June, 2007. The $10 coin continued to account for the highest proportion of the total value of coins, followed by the G$5 and G$1 coins, respectively. In value terms the share of G$10 coins accounted for 41.5 percent, the G$5 accounted for 39.1 percent and the G$1 for 19.4 percent.

In terms of the total quantity of coins issued, the G$1 accounted for 61.8 percent, the G$5 accounted for 24.9 percent and the G$10 for 13.3 percent.

Payments System

During the period January – June 2008, 503,311 low value transactions (LVT) were settled through the National Clearings House (NCH), an increased by 1.9 percent when compared with the volume recorded for the same period in 2007. The Volume of high value transactions (HVT) increased by 8.4 percent to reach 48,399. Continuing the over all trend over the past five years total transactions rose by 16.7 percent in 2008 to reach G $377 billion. Increases were recorded in value of both high-value and low value transactions which amounted to G$267.7 billion and G$109.3 billion respectively. The shares of HVT in total value of transactions rose from 70 percent in 2007 to 71 percent in 2008. As a result, the share of LVT fell to 29 percent in 2007 from 30 percent in the pervious period. The average value of HVT rose by 9 percent in 2008 to reach G$5.53 million, while the average value of LVT rose by 15.8 percent to reach G$0.22 million.

The balances in this table exclude inter-bank loans, real estate mortgage loans, local securities and other credit instruments. It should be noted that gross indebtedness of the sugar and rice industry can be obtained by adding the balances of sugar cane and sugar and molasses manufacturing of sugar, and paddy and rice milling for rice respectively. See note under Loans to Non-Residents for Table 2.1 (a) above. See note under Private Sector for Table 2.1(a) above.

TABLE 2.14: Commercial Banks: Liquid Assets

The liquid assets comprise Bank of Guyana notes and coins, foreign currency held by banks, (special interest earning) deposits held at the Bank of Guyana (BOG), balances due from other Commercial Banks - both local and foreign, Government of Guyana Treasury Bills. The special reserves deposits (SRDs) established in 1969, discontinued in 1994 as the Bank of Guyana sought to develop its capacity to manage the excess reserves of the bank more effectively. Approximately, 75-80 per cent of the SRDs were absorbed through a sale of three year, variable rate, fixed date debenture to the Commercial Banks.

Prior to March 1989, the legally required level of liquid assets to be held by the Commercial Banks against their deposit liabilities was calculated as the sum of 20 percent of demand liabilities and 15 percent of time liabilities. During the period March 31, 1989 to May 15, 1991 the determination of the required liquid assets held by the banks was based on actual holdings on specified dates. Accordingly, from March 31, 1989 to June 30, 1990 required liquid assets were stipulated as the actual holdings on March 15, 1989. Between July 30, 1990 and February 19, 1991 the required liquid assets was based on the assets held by the banks on September 30, 1989. Further, between February 20, 1991 and May 14, 1991 the required balances were set as at the end of July 30, 1990.

With effect from May 15, 1991, however, the basis for calculating required liquid assets was changed to 25 percent of demand liabilities and 20 percent of time liabilities. Further, amendments to the liquid asset requirements became effective on 26th, October 1998. The liquid assets base period has been redefined as the Monday to Friday workweek immediately preceding the liquid asset maintenance period. The liquid asset requirement is determined by applying the prescribed percentages to the weekly average of the daily liabilities balances at the close of business of each of the five days of the liquid asset base period. Figures for Treasury Bills were reclassified from December 2000 to December 2002.

TABLE 2.15: Commercial Banks: Minimum Reserve Requirements

Prior to May 16, 1991, the minimum required reserves of the Commercial Banks were calculated as 6 percent of demand liabilities and 4 percent of time liabilities. Their percentages were changed with effect from May 16, 1991, to 11 percent of demand liabilities and 9 percent of time liabilities. Commencing April 7, 1994, the minimum required reserves of the Commercial Banks were again revised to the sum of 16 percent of demand liabilities and 14 percent of time liabilities.

On June 29, 1998, in addition to Commercial Banks, other licensed Financial Institutions were required to maintain balances with the Central Bank against their deposits and other liabilities. Further, the required reserve period has been changed on Monday to Friday workweek instead of the Wednesday to Thursday week used previously. The required reserve period has been referred to as the reserve base period. The week following the current reserve base period, i.e. the reserve maintenance period is also based on the Monday to Friday workweek. The deposits and other liabilities to which the required reserve ratio(s) are applied are referred to as the reserve base. During the reserve maintenance period, all licensed Financial Institutions subject to reserve requirement are required to maintain reserves against the relevant deposit and other liabilities.

Effective February 1, 1999, the required reserve ratio applicable to all liabilities of licensed Financial Institutions was lowered to twelve per cent (12 %). The first reserve base period for which the revised requirements became relevant was the 1st to 5th February 1999 while the reserve maintenance period was the 8th to 12th February 1999. However, reserve balances for the Non-Bank licensed Financial Institutions are excluded from table 2.15.
